ROOSEVELT INAUGURATED

COPYRIGHT 1905 THEODORE ROOSEVELT

THEODORE ROOSEVELT WAS FORMALLY INAUGURATED AT WASHINGTON TODAY THE TWENTY-FIFTH PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

THE LEGISLATURE

DICKEY'S ANTI-SPIITING BILL IS PASSED IN THE SENATE BY A LARGE MAJORITY—A PETITION IN THE HOUSE BY A MAN WHOSE ANCESTRAL TOMBS WERE DESECRATED—OTHER WORK DONE BY THE LEGISLATURE.

THE SENATE. The senators were all on hand but Dickey when the roll was called this morning, and he came in while the minutes were being read. The several bills which passed the House on third reading yesterday were read by title and referred to appropriate committees. The Judiciary Committee recommended the passage of Senate Bill 6, allowing appeals from Boards of Registration to the Supreme Court.

THE HOUSE. When an unfeeling road board comes along, cuts a road through your taro patch and your family burying ground you will be annoyed, will you not? That is what annoyed W. K. Keohu of Kipahulu, Maui, according to a petition which he filed with the House of Representatives this morning. His land, he stated, is on the north side of Oheo stream and the road board confiscated 12-100 of an acre, scattering bones of his ancestors around the

Police Make Discoveries At Palo Alto

(Associated Press Cable to The Star). SAN FRANCISCO, March 4.—The police working on the Stanford mystery today discovered the presence of two tins marked bicarbonate of soda, one being found at the Palo Alto residence and the other at the San Francisco house. Both tins have been given chemists for analysis.

GREAT RUSSIAN DISASTER

BERLIN, March 4.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg says that Kuropatkin reports that a force of 260,000 Japanese broke through his left wing which is now cut off. The Japanese are now marching on Mukden. The officials believe that Kuropatkin is beaten. The losses in the battle are placed at: Russians, 30,000; Japanese, 40,000.

JAPS WINNING

TOKIO, March 4.—Fighting on the Russian center and left has resulted in steady Japanese gains.

MORE JAPANESE VICTORIES. Washington, February 4th, 1905. To the Japanese Consul-General, Honolulu: Our Manchurian army's report is as follows: "The enemy confronting our detachment in the direction of Singking, about eighty miles east of Mukden attempted several counterattacks, but all were repulsed. In the direction of Pensiho our detachment pushed the enemy back to his main line of defence. An engagement is now proceeding and developing favorably. On the 1st inst our detachment dispersed the enemy in Taminton and Hsimintun and captured a large quantity of the enemy's provision and forage at Hsimintun." TAKAHIRA.

LONDON BEETS. SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—The London price of 88 analysis beets this day is 15 shillings, 3 pence.

Protestors Win Famous Sake Case Against Government

BROKER JOHNSTON ADVISED BY CABLE TODAY OF GOOD NEWS—HALF MILLION DOLLARS DRAWBACK DUTIES WILL BE SECURED BY LOCAL IMPORTERS—GOVERNMENT MAY CARRY CASE TO THE SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

The famous sake case has been decided against the government. Harry J. Johnston, the Customs broker, to whom is due the credit of having originally raised the issue on the payment of duty on sake, the Japanese national beverage, was the first in Honolulu to receive advice of the decision. His advice came in the form of a cablegram from Thomas Fitch, one of the attorneys who have been engaged in the case. The cablegram was as follows: New York, March 4, 8:30 a. m. To Harry Johnston, Honolulu. We have won. FITCH. While this cablegram was not very explicit it was sufficient to acquaint Johnston, the broker, with the news for which he has been waiting for some months. The victory has been gained in the United States Court of Appeals at New York, and is the result of litigation begun at Honolulu and extending over a period of nearly three years. Sake is a peculiar alcoholic drink imported from Japan. There was no classification of it in the tariff schedules and the local appraiser classified it as light wine dutiable at 50 cents a gallon. The duty was therefore very steep Johnston raised the point that the stuff was not a wine at all, but was a brewed liquor and should be entered under a beer classification. An appeal from the local collector was taken about two years ago in behalf of H. Hackfeld & Company, importers. The appeal was taken to the Board of Gen-

Delegate Says Governor Is The Whole Thing

"I WANT TO EMPHASIZE THE FACT THAT THE GOVERNOR KNOWS IN SPITE OF HIS NEWSPAPER INTERVIEWS TO THE CONTRARY THAT FOR THE PRESENT THE ENTIRE CONTROL OF APPOINTMENTS IS IN HIS HANDS."

Washington, Feb. 20th, 1905. EDITOR HAWAIIAN STAR—Now that the way has been cleared for the confirmation of Mr. Pratt as postmaster, by the formal withdrawal of my objections, I want to state to the public my position throughout on this subject. Before leaving Honolulu in November I called on Governor Carter in company with Chairman Robertson and asked him if he had a choice for the Honolulu postmastership. He said that he did not have one and declined to state what his action would be. Upon reaching Washington I met Secretary Atkinson who knew of the Governor's intention to recommend Mr. Pratt, but Mr. A. L. C. Atkinson left for New York without mentioning the subject at all.

More Uncertainty Than Strychnine

THE CHEMICAL ANALYSIS OF THE VITAL ORGANS AND THEIR CONTENTS IN THE STANFORD CASE AND OF THE VARIOUS MEDICINES AND OTHER THINGS SUBMITTED, IS TAKING LONGER THAN EXPECTED—INQUEST STILL DISTANT.

The action at San Francisco, in sending two detectives here, as well as the coming of a Morse detective and of David Starr Jordan, is regarded by many as evidence that at San Francisco, at least, it has been pretty certainly decided that Mrs. Jane L. Stanford died of poisoning. This decision, if it has been reached, may be based on cables High Sheriff Henry has sent from Honolulu, though the sheriff refuses to give out here any information that he may have, and denies that he has anything of importance pending the report of the chemists. It is well known, however, that it does not usually take three days to develop the presence or absence of strychnine in a human stomach under analysis, and Henry though he has not received the chemists' reports, may have received some fairly definite preliminary statements from them. It is not thought that the police are simply waiting for the chemists as far as the stomach is concerned and it is thought that there is some reason, developed by Henry's cable communications with San Francisco, for delaying any action here. It was even reported this morning that the chemists would not be able to report till Monday or Tuesday and one member of the coroner's jury in the case stated that he didn't expect the jury to meet until after the arrival of the Alameda next Friday. It is beginning to be believed that the local police are delaying matters, following advice of the San Francisco police department in the matter. "Miss Berner begs to be excused," is the reply sent to all callers who attempt to see Miss Berner at the Moana hotel. The lady who was the late
